Woodturning Fundamentals by Roger Jones

Roger Jones was one of the first people to help organize the Brazos Valley Wood Turners and in many ways he is a "Superturner" in a "Clark Kent" package.

Roger is a very unassuming person until he gets a chunk of wood, a tool and gets behind a lathe. Then he does become "Superturner". His knowledge of tools, their various cuts and perfect sharpening is astounding. He is very approachable and willing to help anyone learn anything and his calm demeanor keeps the learner focused on learning and reduces tension in doing something new or different. Roger takes his time to relax the learn and create a pleasant learning environment

During any demonstration he tosses out practical information about whatever tool he is using as to how to perfect the cut, other ways the tool could be used and keeping it sharp as well as ways to practice and still come up with a decent turning. It's as casual as a comment about the weather but people remember those comments. In addition to great knowledge about tools -- all aspects and some you didn't know about---he has a very creative mind. Given any turned object instead of merely changing a minor detail, Roger's creativity will take it to a totally different place. Several years ago the BVWT was doing table decorations for SWAT featuring a 2 piece turned bird on a stick. Roger took the idea and came up with many variations including a mini turkey with drumsticks, on a platter (turned) with a lid re-purposed from an old lamp.

When Roger demonstrates what originally appears to be a very complex turning project, he breaks it down into stages that encourages turners to try making a similar project. He has the rare teaching ability to make complex into easily understood and probably obtainable steps. Even if a watcher never tries to make the project, he/she is left with a lot of ideas and techniques that they can apply to their own work.

Good Shavings

- WOW! what a week we had with Jimmy Clewes. Six days of classes and a full day of demonstrations by one of the best turning instructors in the world. If you missed any of it you still have a chance because Jimmy will be at SWAT and will have classes at Wood World in August. Thanks to all of the members that contributed their time and equipment to make the classes a success. Special thanks to Dr. Gill and Mary for hosting Jimmy, and for the use of his shop. Also to John Horn for all of the scheduling and coordination work necessary for such a great event.
- We have a lot of things happening at our meeting Thursday starting with photos for our new club directory. Please come a little early and get your picture made and wear your club shirt if you have one. David Carter will be taking photos for 2 months, but if you do not get yours, there are a lot of goofy clip art images we could substitute for your missing photo.
- SWAT provides one registration scholarship for a club member that has not been to SWAT. Our club will also be providing two additional scholarships to any members that will go to the symposium. We are additionally providing banquet tickets for the three scholarship winners. Drawings will be held Thursday and you must pledge to use the scholarships as they are not inexpensive. Transportation and lodging are the responsibility of the recipient.
- Ray Moyer is heading up our new Beads Of Courage program. He will have more information and special beads at the meeting. Three Challenge raffle tickets will be awarded for each turned vessel.
- Speaking of Bob's Challenge, don't forget to bring in your minimum 8 inch diameter platter or plate. I forgot my YoYo last month and caught all kinds of abuse over providing a cell phone photo of it.
- With everything else going on don't forget your Empty Bowls. We have a long way to go to meet/break our 229 turnings of last year.
- The patches that were sold at the Saturday all day demo are not colored correctly so please do not apply them to your garments. I am working with the manufacturer for a resolution so just hold on to them for now.
- See you at 6:30pm Thursday and be safe. We have a new "safety coordinator", Bob Wiggins, and don't need another.

President

Who's up for a Challenge?

More people are taking on the challenges each month, and it's neat to see the table getting full each meeting. I've seen a lot of beautiful turnings over the last few months, and the workmanship just keeps getting better. This month we will be having our quarterly drawing for the participants of the challenge. Remember, you get one ticket for each challenge you completed. I like to see multiple pieces brought for a challenge, but you still only get one ticket.

Our challenge for February was to turn a yo-yo and 18 members turned lots of yo-yos. Some members got into the spirit and brought several. Sizes ranged from fairly small to one that was so big no one wanted to try and make it work. This was the first time that most of us had ever turned a yo-yo and we found it fun and actually more difficult than we originally thought. Each month the challenge provides us the opportunity to do something different and to expand our woodturning experience.

Below is a list of members who turned yo-yos for the March challenge.

The challenge for the April meeting is to turn a platter or a plate. There has been much discussion about the diameter requirements that I announced, and the truth is I don't remember for sure and I don't think the rest of the guys have reached a consciences. I think eight or nine inch diameter is a good minimum but if one gets turned in the size of a saucer, I'm pretty sure you will get credit.

I started my platter about a week ago, and still have some work to do. I decided to try coloring the rim like Clews and our own Bill Boehme do, and make look so easy. It hasn't been that easy for me, but I've learned a lot and I will finish it.

If you haven't tuned anything for the challenge yet, it's not too late to get a chance to show your work, and get in on the prize drawing.

See you Thursday,

Bob Wiggins

Providing Arts-in-Medicine for Children with Serious Illness

What is Beads of Courage?

This program is designed to support and strengthen children and families coping with serious illness. The program lets the children tell their story using colorful beads as meaningful symbols that commemorates milestone they have achieved along their treatment path. The average child gets 500 beads.

Guidelines

Turned boxes need to be about 6 inches in diameter, (5" minimum)
Have Beads of Courage engraved or burned on the lid if possible
Make sure the lids are easily removable
Finials should be easy for a small child to grasp but not elaborate
If not a turned box is should be 4x6x4 inches

Woodturners of North Texas

Our club has taken on the Beads of Courage as a project and encourages our members to participate. As part of our participation we will giving an additional 3 Challenge Raffle Tickets for each box.

Bowls can be turned in to Ray Moyer at our regular meetings or they can be taken to SWAT. SWAT's contest does not require you to be at SWAT for competition/prizes.

Empty Bowls 2015 Turn-A-Bowl-A-Month

As of yet there have not been any empty bowls turned in.

So this is just a friendly reminder to get those bowls turned and bring them in to Sandy.
